Threatened Strike of Telephone Linemen Will Not Take Place Immediately.

THE SITUATION IN BILLINGS

TOWN DEMAND SETTLEMENT.

The telephone linemen are still awaiting the arrival of F. J. McNulty, the international president of the Brotherhood of Electrical Workers. Mr. McNulty is on his way to San Francisco, where B. Dale. there are matters of vital importance to his organization to be attended to. He is due to arrive in San Francisco on the 7th day of this month. En route he will stop in Salt Lake long enough to gain a grasp on the situation here and to counsel with the district officials of the union. The telephone companies have refused. sel with the district officials of the union. The telephone companies have refused the demands of the linemen for an increase of pay. The demands, briefly put, are for an increase of 50 cents a day. Mr. McNulty was expected to arrive yesterday, but he did not come. It is almost certain that he will be here to-

Trouble in Montana.

An Associated Press dispatch from Billings, Mont., is to the effect that the Bell operators in that city are on strike. and that the merchants have notified the company officials that the strike must be settled, and settled quickly; the al-be settled, and settled quickly; the alternative is that the patrons will withdraw their subscriptions.

The merchants of Helena not long ago took a hand in the settlement of the strike of telephone operators. They notifed the company that unless the service was maintained and the strike settled it was manifest that they must withdraw their patronage. The strike was settled.

It will readily be understood that the merchants are the chief sufferers in cases of telephone strikes. They are unable to send their local orders with swiftness, neither are the patrons of their stores able to place their daily orders for goods. One Salt Lake merchant yesterday said that "street car strike would have been hell, but a telephone strike will be heller."

The general officers of the Rocky Mountain Bell in this city have jurisdiction over the territory in which Billings is included. Thus far no definite action has been taken with respect to the Billings situation. An authorized representative of the general manager's office stated that the conditions in Billings were purely local and that probably nothing would be done from this end until official information had been received.

Billings is the eastern terminal point of the Rocky Mountain Bell in Montana. This company has opposition in the Wyoming & Montana Independent Telephone company, which has a large list of subscribers in Billings and nearby cities. This concern is commonly called the Moffit system. Mr. Moffit being at the head of the enterprise.

On the Pacific Coast.

Word from the Pacific coast is that the telephone operators employed by the Pacific States Telephone company, which is allied with the Bell interests, in that it uses the Bell system and equipment, and is also in other ways more or less directly connected with the Bell company. No one in Salt Lake is, so far as could be learned, sufficiently familiar with the San Francisco situation to say how well the operators are organized; the general understanding is that the girls have a fairly effective bond and that their union has been effective in the past.

The telephone operators in this city have no union. One of the reasons assigned for this is that the girls, as a rule, remain in the employ of the companies only a short time and that there is a continual shifting of the personnel of the force. Word from the Pacific coast is that Bell Company Drivers Strike. Four drivers of Bell company service wagons struck last evening and left their work. They asked $1.50 per day, instead of $1.25, the prevailing scale.

RETURNS FROM LEHI.

Superintendent Nelson Attended High School Commencement.

C. Nelson, state superintendent of schools, returned yesterday afternoon from Lehl, Utah county, where he attended the first commencement of Utah county high schools. When seen at his office in the afternoon he said that the occasion was one of the most notable in the history of the state schools and that it has not been until recently that high school work has been taken up to any great extent outside Salt Lake and Og-

During the past few years Utah county has established five high schools and it has established five high schools and it was thought proper this year to celebrate the completion of all of them by having the commencement exercises at one place. Lehi was picked, and all day yesterday it was thronged with visitors and high school children.

Mr. Nelson spoke at the exercises, but left before the athletic carnival took place in the afternoon.

CLARENCE MACKAY IN CITY. Postal Telegraph Magnate Consults With Superintendent.

Clarence Mackay, the foremost man in the affairs of the Postal Telegraph company, passed through Salt Lake City last evening. He was here only between trains, leaving for Denver and the east on the first train outward bound. He paid a brief visit to the company's local office. Superintendent W. P. S. Hawk accompanied Mr. Mackay on his way eastward. Mr. Mackay expressed his approval of local conditions and his satisfaction with the telegraphic world in general. Mr. Mackay is the son of the late John W. Mackay, the famous Comstocker.

BIG IMPLEMENT BUSINESS. Consolidated Wagon & Machine

Company Continues to Expand. Salt Lake implement dealers are experiencing the heaviest spring business of years. The Consolidated Wagon & Machine company has had to make new arrangements for handling their expanding business in the south, and to this end have asked for bids on a new one-story building for Spanish Fork, to be erected at once.

The building will be 75x90 and contractors from Spanish Fork, Provo, Springville and Salt Lake will bid on the building. The company has just sold a 32-horse-power Case traction plowing engine to parties south of Salt plowing engine to parties south of Salt Lake.

SENATOR CLARK VISITS SALT LAKE

Continued from Page 1. ted that he understood when the traffic agreement was made between his road and the Southern Pacific that for ninety-nine years on the class of traffic mentioned in the agreement the San Pedro officials could not make a change of rate without the consent of the Southern Pacific. Mr. Clark further said that the provision was not put into the agreement at the instance of his line. The examination then continued: at the instance of his line. The examination then continued:

Commissioner Lane—Why did you consent to the making of such a contract?

Mr. Clark—Why, that let us into southern California. There is a provision in there that they can inferthange with us on the same terms as they interchange with the Santa Fe company. Now, at that time, we had probably a little over 100 miles of railroad in southern California and that would give us access by interchange to 300 additional miles already constructed by the Southern Pacific in operation.

Commissioner Lane-You say that lets Commissioner Lane—You say that lets you into southern California. Could you not have gotten in without that?

Mr. Clark—In time, yes sir; at an enormous expense. Those lines were already constructed and in operation.

In response to further inquiries, Mr. Clark said the contract applied only to "local traffic, that is traffic picked up in California and laid down within the state."

Not a San Pedro Proposition.

When his attention was called to a lause which provides that no changes hould be made in the rates unless such should be made in the rates unless such changes be made necessary by some requirement of state or national law, and was asked by Attorney Severance, for the commission, if that did not show clearly that it was never the intention that the provision should apply to traffic local to the state of California, Mr. Clark said he would not undertake to enswer this. Mr. the state of California, Mr. Clark said he would not undertake to answer this. Mr. Clark admitted further that he was unable to give any reason for the insertion of the provision in the contract. He could not say that the provision had been drafted by Mr. Harriman or Mr. Harriman's assistants, but he was quite positive that it was not drawn by the San Pedro road officials. It developed that the San Pedro company agreed not to construct, during the life of its centract, additions to its lines that would compete with the Oregon Short Line, "northward of the parallel of Salt Lake City, Utah."

What effect the abrogation of the agreement will have on the pending investigation into the Harriman lines is problematical. Members of the interstate commerce commission refused to discuss that phase of the case.

WORKING ON NEW THEORY.

San Antonio, Tex., May 4.—Another sensation, in which army officers and Brownsville citizens are likely to be implicated, came to light today, by the unexpected visit of Colonel Francis H. French of the inspector general's department. His visit is occasioned by the Brownsville affair.

Colonel French took the testimony of enlisted men at Fort Sam Houston relative to the ordnance stores at Fort Brown. It was brought out in the Penrose court-martial that there was extra ordnance and the theory upon which Colonel French is believed to be proceeding is that ten or fifteen rilles and ammunition were allowed to go into the hands of persons not connected with the army. army.
